

Cassini Scientist for a Day Certificate of Participation in Space Exploration

National Aeronautics and Space Administration

Presented to:

Thank you for your participation in our "Cassini Scientist for a Day" contest. The quality of the essays submitted this year was very high, and it is the efforts of students such as you that make this competition so successful! We appreciate your involvement very much.

Robert Mitchell

*Program Manager, Cassini Mission
Jet Propulsion Laboratory*

In the Fall of 2012, the Cassini spacecraft in orbit around Saturn took these images of Pan, the F-Ring and Saturn and its rings.